

* Your party goes live

With the introduction of the Apple iSight chat camera, came a new deviation of video chatting online. The simplicity and cool interface of iChat broke way for the new standard. Soup Industries have been keen users of video chats, being spread out around the world. Our initiative, isightparty.com, came as a result of exploring the possibilities to create new contacts in the wild wide web community.

REQUIREMENTS

- Broadband connection
- Video chat camera (iSight)
- Chat software
- Please wear your clothes

(iSightParty.com is currently in beta testin, we have closed for futher betatesters, we'll be back for more)

FEATURES

- ✓ Live display of online users
- ✓ On the fly invitations
- ✓ Timezone aware
- ✓ Find people by country, timezone or occation
- ✓ User rating
- ✓ Mail box and messageboard

*You need a chat client account (.Mac, AIM or Skyp).

Imagine going to a party in Bombay, next day you stop by San Francisco, but hey why not call in on Amman at the end of the night, well at iSightParty.com you will be able to invite and accept invitations from people all over the world. If you have planned a party, bring out the projector and talk, drink and dance with your new friends.

iSightParty also recommends schools to take advantage of this service, share your projects or even work on it together.

How will you use it?

iSightParty is not software, all it does is pave the way for meeting people who's hooked up their computer to a camera and gathered a few friends for a global greeting.

FAIRWARE
WHAT COMES AROUND GOES AROUND

comments@soupindustries.com // www.soupindustries.com